ALLAN DOUGLAS BLACKLEDGE CHARLES SPRAGUE BEIGHTLER
RED CLOUD, NEB. MARYSVILLE. Oiiiio

" Biackie " " Commodore " " Dougy'" Gyp

OUR handsome hero swooped down on Buck's and Crabtown in time to put over several eventful months before straying inside the pearly gates. c He emerged from his first and last semi-ans with several just sat marks and one which called for late lights and a re-exam. Youngster year he might have convinced people of his savviness if math had not maintained him as a member of the late lights club. Nevertheless, we insist that it takes a good man at " figgers ' ' to juggle with marks ranging from a 2.4 to a 2.55 and come out with a 2.50 average c As a fusser " Blackie " is there, altho he drags but once in a while. He claims he has but one affair of the heart, and to hear him rave you could nt doubt him. He even threatens to allow her to take charge the day his debts fall due, so stand by with the rice and old shoes.

c While ' 'Blackie" has never exactly starred in " grease," his pals insist " There haint no man livin' " who can do better than he when he takes charge.

c His unfailing sense of humor and squareness insure that he will always have a large circle of fast friends among those he comes in contact with. Honors: Buzzard; Choir, 4.

and Pleb r started for " Gyp. He is still eipi that Mary is thirty miles from Columbus. Gyp fusses occa lly, that is, he attends the hops, but hi chief joy an occupation is corking; any place, any tim c Of course, he is savvy; he was a student at Ohio Stht before he came to the Navy, and at the start of acadenii year he displayed such a bunch of brains that the academi department chalked him up as a favorite: win, place, c show. Did you ever watch him loaf along with his daili€ and then crack the exams for a 4.0?

i A better disposition can't be found, always cheerfu never rhino—and a sort of an antidote for the rhino spell of his roommate. He is always easy for a friend—translate " Gil Blas " for the whole corridor and won the und-in gratitude of many a wooden class-mate.

c " Gyp " is certain to be a success as an officer and fort nate are those who will be his shipmates. When lie goes mt the Fleet he will be onto his job and " savvy " it all. He been practising the officer job since the day he came into th

Navy, has " Gyp " Beightler—" Gyp," of sterling worti Honors: Buzzard.
